Dear Sir:-

Dr. E. L. Stevenson, a fellow member of The Author's Club, has kindly suggested that I seek your opinion on an inherited case of medals. In the case is the English Order of the Bath, star and cross, and twelve war medals. The medals, in perfect condition with bars and ribbons, are of the early Afghan and Sikh wars of India. Artists who have seen the collection regard the medals as of very fine craftsmanship. They could be seen here by appointment, at your convenience, if you would fix date and hour

Thanking you in advance for your courtesy,

Very truly yours,

Michael A. E. White

Dear Sir:

Replying to your favour of March 12th, I beg to say that I was very much interested in your letter.

As we are very shorthanded here, I am unable to leave the building, and am wondering if it would be possible for you to bring your medals to the Museum for inspection. We could then very easily compare them with those we have in our Collection here. I would suggest that you make an appointment in advance by telephone, (Wadsworth 7735).

Trusting the above suggestion will meet with your approval, I am,

Very truly yours,

Curator

Dear Mr. Wood:

With reference to your courteous letter of March 18.

I am now able to avail myself of your kind invitation to bring my inherited case of medals up to you for inspection. If convenient to you I would prefer to do so any morning next week, so that the medals may be returned to the safety deposit box before the hour of closing, since I do not care to have them here overnight. Will you please write, or phone to me at above number, the morning and hour best suitable to you next week.

Very truly yours,

Michael A. E. White
